About the Inamori Project Group

INAMORI Art Project Group was established by Nariko Inamori, a housewife with a progressive and incredible disease. This company is a voluntary group founded upon her strong wish that we should hand over a peaceful future to children all over the world. Inamori Group is keeping her dream alive with our theatrical plays, music and live arts. We share her dream that the Earth will become a planet where everyone in the world will live peaceful. We are a small company, however we are like a ray of sunlight shining on a cloudy day. We hope the vibration of our messages will reach people's hearts and that they will share these messages with others. We believe that our message will burst and bloom someday. That's why we perform on stages doing our best with hearty gratitude.

The Story: Prayer of Love & Peace Nagasaki Miracle/ Then & Now

This play is set in the Edo era. At that time, the Shogunate, Japans's feudal government forbade its people to believe in Christianity.. In Nagasaki, there were people passionately practicing Christianity religious even under the crackdown. Of course they believed covertly and were called "Hidden Christianity" in Japan. They attained salvation by saying a prayer to the image Virgin Mary. The remaining part of the play is set the present time. College students Yosuke and Maria went to Nagasaki during their summer holidays. They encountered a woman on a wheelchair named Rie, who up to? What kind of linkage do they have with the Holy Mother?

The Story: The Firefighter

In 2014, a Japanese woman RIE visited her niece, MARIA. When REI was walking around in the city guided by MARI, the founded a church Financial Center. Articles left by the firefighters are exhibited in the church voice was it? The story of the Love & Prayer beyond time begins.

THAT LITTLE GIRL DREAM

By Evrn G Randolph

PRAYER OF LOVE AND PEACE-Nagasaki Miracle/ Then & Now

Little Girl That Dreams is based on the stories created by six year old Naomi who lived oin the United States in a rural area of South Caroliina with her parents and siblings during the 1960's. Using her imagination, she traveled all over the world looking for girls who dream and have the power to change the world.

Twenty years had passed since the bombing of Hiroshima. Naomi and her grandfather were sitting around her grandfather's new black and white television watching Walter Cronkite's report on the Nightly News about the American B-29 bomber Enols Gay dropped a 5 ton bomb that killed 80,000 people and the next week tens of thousands more people died from their wounds and radiation.

The Story: Prayer of Mother Mary

PRAYER OF LOVE AND PEACE NAGASAKI MIRACLE - A Miracle of Nagasaki

The first part of the play is set in the Edo era when the Japanese government was ruled by the Shogunate. Christianity was forbidden by the feudal Shogunate government, but in the city of Nagasaki there was a group called the "Hidden Christians" that practiced Christianity secretly using an image of the Virgin Mary in worship. Rie, a little Japanese girl lost and living in fear of the aftermath of the atomic bomb is searching for refuge and was saved by Naomi, the little American girl who dreams.

The remaining part of the play is set in the present day and opens with two college students visiting Nagasaki during the summer. They encounter a woman in a wheelchair named Rie, who has miraculous powers. What is the connection between Rie and the two college students and how are their fates linked to Mother Mary?
